

REMARKS

Interview Summary

The applicants thank the Examiner for the Interview granted on May 22, 2003. At the interview, the applicants and their representative argued that several features of the present invention were not found in the prior art. These features include, but are not limited to: parsing content of the pages in a subset of pages using predetermined categories of key words, searching for key words in the predetermined categories; scoring the subset of pages utilizing at least one key word and analyzing statistics based on an amount of the key words found on a page; compiling the analyzed statistics and prioritizing the pages utilizing rules to combine the analyzed statistics and the additional information. The Examiner indicated that she believed if an amendment including the above features were submitted, it would overcome the prior art cited in the June 13, 2003 Office Action.

Response to Outstanding Rejections

Applicants traverse the rejections based on the material discussed in the Interview Summary. Applicants have amended the claims to include the features described above. The amended claims are supported by the specification (see, e.g., original claims; page 3, line 19 thru page 4, line 12; and page 25, lines 10-22).

Applicants believe that the application is now in condition for allowance. Should the Examiner determine that any further action is necessary to place this application into better form, the Examiner is encouraged to telephone the undersigned representative at the number listed below.

Respectfully submitted,
